Subject: Multiple Shipping Windows for the 850 Bulk and Release Purchase Order

October 2005

Dear Federated Home EDI Vendors:

Federated is pleased to introduce an enhancement to its purchase order entry system. Specifically, effective 10/31/05, the purchase order entry system will be enhanced to support multiple shipping windows for a single bulk commitment. This enhancement, which will be available for use within the Macy's Home Store division, will permit us to achieve a more timely flow of product to the Macy's divisions and thereby enhance the customer shopping experience. This new feature maximizes existing Bulk and Release functionality by enabling a bulk commitment to cross multiple distribution centers, operating divisions and regions.

Please note, however, that this enhancement does not apply to Rugs or Furniture and Bedding vendors.

Below is a summary of the new process, as well as an example of how the data will look when transmitted:

- A bulk purchase order will transmit to vendor as PO# 1234569.
- This PO will be allocated and new PO shipping numbers created (i.e. #2233449, #3344559, and #4455669) with the sum of the new shipping numbers to equal the original bulk PO of 1234569.
- New transmissions are sent for each shipping number (#2233449, #3344559, and #4455669), which will replace the bulk PO and reference the original bulk PO (#1234569).
- Vendor will ship against the shipping numbers (#2233449, #3344559 and #4455669) and will not ship against the original bulk PO# 1234569.
- The ASN is created against the release purchase order shipping numbers.

Please note this new process is not a replacement of but rather an enhancement to our existing functionality. You may still receive one-to-one relational Bulk and Release purchase orders if a Macy's merchant chooses to manage the purchase order in that manner.

As always, your partnership is appreciated and welcomed as to each of our new company initiatives. Questions should be directed to EDI Support @ 678-474-3595 and Macy's Home Store MIO @ 212-494-6376.
